ALESIA FIELDBERG BROADCASTING ENTHUSIASM

Alesia Fieldberg enrolled in SAIT's Broadcast News program to compliment the International Relations degree she holds from the University of Calgary.

"At university I received a lot of theoretical knowledge, but I know the benefits of adding hands-on practical training to excel in the broadcasting field," said Fieldberg. "That's why I enrolled in SAIT's Broadcast News program - it is revered as the best in western Canada and it meets all industry standards."

A self-proclaimed keener, Fieldberg realized that it was up to her to seek out the financial awards that were available to her.

"If the award fit, I applied online for it," said Fieldberg. "I've received other awards in the past, so I know the importance of performing one's due diligence to find and receive aid."

Fieldberg, an independent young lady, who is working hard to pay for her own education, was thrilled when she won the Carthy Foundation Fund award offered through SAIT's Student Awards program.

"My mom can attest that I was stressed about my finances," said Fieldberg. "When I found out that I won the award I was extremely excited as I thought the award had already been given out."

As former Miss Canada International, a reading buddy for a grade-two student at the Calgary Public Library and board member for two charities - Further Education Society of Alberta and Cerebral Palsy Association in Alberta - Fieldberg is ready to take on exciting challenges with the Broadcast News diploma she'll receive next spring.

"I would like to start out as a reporter, but the sky is the limit," said Fieldberg. "I'm interested in anchoring, hosting, documentaries - actually whatever comes my way!"
